THE CALIFORNIA CAMPAIGN.

The Democratic party of California thinks it has won the battle in that State by putting up s ticket and platform that cater to the vulgar outcry against law and property. They think they have jumped in ahead and obtained a monopoly of the anti-monopoly and anti-Sunday rackets. Their course suggests two plans for the Republican party. One is to out-Herod Herod, and put up a ticket and platform that will be more communistic and pledge themselves to cinch the railroads and the churches worse than the Democrats can, and the other is to take high grounds in favor of a sup-port of all laws until they are repealed and equal protection for the property of the rich and poor. Let the Democracy make a war cry of the railroad dry and solid enough for any traffic. question, and let the Republican party take it up and argue it as a question in political economy and not of party hate. They can safely trust to the vein of good sense and honesty which adopted the following: runs through the whole country. It is the way to gain the confidence of the better elements of society. To cater to what ever prejudice happens to be uppermost, to rail at success and cry down laws for the enforcement of a quiet and orderly Sunday, would be a new way for the Republican party to enter a campaign. It would be a very different method from the high stand it took when an infant, and a humiliating desertion of the dectrines of its founders.

In party in this State. The idea of division of Stalwart strength on variety candidates, and its subsequent consolidation under the cry of 'Grant and harmony,' would earry the State Convention, is entirely worthy of the clique of purblind politicians who are responsible for it. As a contribution to current politics it is about as new as a discovery in solar physics. There is no very great proportion of the people of this State standing on tiptoe to discern the downing man for the Governorship. In fact, a more lauguid appreciation of partisan politics than is parceptible at the present time has not been known in the memory of the oldest citizen.

Precautions Takan.

LONDON, July 19.

In the House of Commons this afternoon the Financial Secretary of War ficially said that efficient precautions had been taken to protect Port Said Ismails and Sue, but he could not enter into the details. Dilks, the under foreign secretary, said the identical note of the powers to the Porte regarding the despatch of Turkish troops to Egypt was still unasswered.

The Khedive's Conduct.

ALEXANDRIA, July 19. The conduct of the Khedive causes much surprise. He has for the last few days allowed several persons to be at the Palace who were well known to have been intimately connected with Arabi Pasha. The Khedive apparently trusts them, but maybe he is enleavering to get them in his pewer.

Starving to Death. ALEXANDRIA, July 19.

I drove yesterday nine miles along the line of Arabi Pasha's retreat, and passed several villages, the people in which are starving. The soldiers robbed them of everything. The entire route is lined with carriages and dead horses. It is reported that Bedouins harassed the soldiers during the retreat killing 200.

Dervish Pasha Returning to Alexandria ALEXANDRIA, July 19. A telegram from the Porte for Dervish Pasha arrived shortly after he left here for Constantinople. Admiral Seymour sent after him and he is now returning. No Europeans remain in Cairo, except twenty Germans wh refuse to leave. The person killed at Zugasig was an Italian consul.

The charge against Superintendent Crawford and the employees of the Mint by several discharged workmen seem to fall rather flat. They are preented in such a rambling way that they do not seem to penetrate the public consciousness as they would if presented in a more concise and posilay the writers open to a suit for libel they seem to prefer the quieter plan.

They probably desire a change in the management, thinking that they will drop into something. It is said by Carson people that every one of them was discharged tor cause, and the sentiment there seems to be that they was discharged for cause, and the sentiment there seems to be that they weakened their case by waiting so long before saying anything about the dishonesty which now vexes their patriotic souls. They evidently wish to build up a sentiment in their favor here before going further, as they had a good opportunity to have the whole matter looked into last week when Mr. Leich, the inspector, was here from Washington. Instead of that, however, none of the charges were published until just after he left. It must be quite a relief to all hands to get the matter settled, as it has been the fire town. THE HAND-CAR CASE. There is Not Enough Evidence to

There having been considerable remark and some criticism by the persons concerned and citizens both here and at Wadsworth, Judge Cossit called at this office this morning to explain the reason the Court failed to hold the men arrested for taking the car from Wadsworth Saturday night. He found that the Supreme Court having decided that the removal of a hand-car was not larceny unless it was taken off the company's land, that charge could not be sustained. The evidence would not establish a case of malicious mischief, and in this view the of matter the company's attorney, Judge Marshall, declined to make any complaint on behalf of the railroad. This left nothing but a charge of vagrancy, and the nere fact of their having begged their way across the continent would not be sufficient to make a case against them in the absence of any act of va-grancy in Washoe county. The boys evinced a desire to go to work, and all have hired out to farmers in the valley to help during haying. Judge Cossitt says that as long as District Attorney Rankin is here everything harge of the county the old Harry breaks loose.

BELL TONGUE SYRUP. N ACCIDENTAL DISCOVERY OF

An Inestimable Benefit Mankind. UNCLE BEN JO'S

CREAT SOUTH AMERICAN PA ACEA GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN PA AGEA.

'UNCLE BEN JO was born in Bostom in 1800. Being a betanist, he effected many wonderfu. cures with roots and herbs. In 1844 he went to South America to study botany, and while there accidentally made his great discovery. The natives of this country were quite familiar with it, and hard lawys supposed it to be a poisonous herb, which they used for the sole purpose of keeping snakes away from their tents or houses. This they did by laying it in a circle about the same at a preper distance off. This herb, Uncle Jo, as well as the natives, considered a very obnaxious and poisonous one, and when green and fresh it threw off a very distanteful and repulsive door. The herb grows about two feet high, and about eight inches or the top part of its stalk is leafless, and this part lops over and hangs downward perpendicularly, and from its chryed week to its and it increases in size. ngs downward perpendicularly chryed neck to its end it incres and on the end of the same is a large, burly-looking ball, which stalk and ball, in this hanging position, looks precisely like the tongue of a bell. Hence Uncle Jo named it the Bell Tongue Plant. In Soath America this herb is only found in the extreme interior of the country, and the natives there call it "Zarr Neto." It is a wonderful cure of kidney and liver diseases, also, dyspeptian neuralgis and rheumatism. We have a whole library full of testimonials Sold by OSBURN & SHOEMAKER,
